Report on: Vox Juris - Client Counselling Competition , Renaissance 2026

Title of the Event: Vox Juris - Client Counselling Competition

Venue of the Event: Class room 310

Date of event: 23rd March 2026

No. of Teams Participated: 7

The Department of Law, BVIMR, successfully organized Vox Juris 2026, a premier Client Counselling Competition, as a flagship event of the annual Rena Fest. Held on 23rd March 2026, the competition served as a vital platform for law students to transition from theoretical classroom learning to the practical nuances of legal practice. Under the visionary leadership of Dr. Gaurav Gupta (Head of Department) and the expert guidance of Dr. Neha Garg (Faculty Coordinator), the event was designed to simulate the high-pressure environment of a modern law office. The core vision was to cultivate a generation of "Client-Centric" lawyers who balance sharp legal strategy with unwavering professional ethics.

Brief of the Event

The Client Counselling Competition was conducted successfully with enthusiastic participation and active engagement from students. The event created a professional and interactive environment that closely reflected real-life legal practice.

The competition was judged by Advait Chandra, an advocate at the Delhi High Court, whose practical insights and valuable feedback greatly enhanced the learning experience. His observations helped participants understand the nuances of client interaction and professional conduct.

The event was conducted under the guidance and support of Head of Department Dr. Gaurav Gupta and Faculty Coordinator Dr. Neha Garg, whose constant encouragement played an important role in the successful execution of the event.

Overall, the event was meticulously organised and highly impactful, with every aspect from participation to evaluation carried out with great efficiency and professionalism.

Objective

The Client Counselling Competition aimed to unleash students' legal acumen and help them master the art of client interaction. The event focused on developing professional ethics, effective communication, interview techniques, and legal problem-solving skills. It was designed to encourage critical thinking and promote overall professional growth among participants.

Event Strategy

The event was strategically structured to simulate real-life client counselling situations. Participants engaged in interactive sessions where they acted as legal professionals, understanding client issues and responding accordingly.

The strategy emphasized:

- Building strong client interaction and communication skills
- Practicing effective interview techniques
- Understanding and applying professional ethics
- Enhancing problem-solving abilities in legal contexts

This approach ensured that students experienced practical learning and developed confidence in handling real-world legal scenarios.

Outcome of the Event

The outcome of the event was highly enriching and insightful. Participants gained a deeper understanding of how to interact with clients professionally and handle legal situations effectively.

The event helped participants to:

- Improve communication and client-handling skills
- Understand the importance of ethics in legal practice
- Develop confidence in dealing with real-life scenarios
- Gain a new perspective on practical aspects of law

Overall, the participants, judging, and execution of the event were really nice and commendable, making it a valuable learning experience.
